

SF is

JULY 2008

APPEARANCES

PHOTOGRAPHY BY LIZ HARALIA

Great take-aways for summer travel

Summer travels are exhilarating, even as security checks, delayed departures and luggage restrictions are exhausting. Stylish sundries assure that at least you'll be soft and smooth, even if takeoff and landing aren't. Here's a few favorites we're carrying on about:

Clockwise, from top left: Elemis Urban Traveler Set for Men, $99, www.nordstrom.com. Why just make do with a razor and a toothbrush when you can have it all — at least a few ounces of most everything a guy could want: shave gel, energizing skin scrub, SOS survival cream, post-shave recovery mask, aching muscle super soak and instant refreshing gel.

Air Repair Kit, $195, www.visagestudio.com. San Francisco aesthetician Denise Spanek created this luxe kit, which is like having a mini spa with you wherever you go. Included with elegant facial masks and hand creams are her own creations, including a hydrating spray and Air Repair Rescue Balm — an emollient made with shea butter, jojoba, sunflower and hazelnut oils that is preservative and chemical free.

Auto Pilot Skin Perfection Collection, $25, Napoleon Perdis boutique, Westfield San Francisco Centre, 845 Market St., San Francisco. Mini versions of this Australian celebrity makeup artist's Auto Pilot line, including a foundation primer, eye cream, "Lip Service" lip balm and dream cream facial moisturizer.

The Globetrekker, $150, www.moltonbrown.com. A luxurious leather pouch filled with 10 of Molton Brown's famously fragrant face, hair and body products, in selections for men and women.

— Anastasia Hendrix